

forth factual allegations identifying the right or privilege that was violated and the role of each defendant in the alleged violation. Dunn v. Tennessee, 697 F.2d 121, 128 (6th Cir. 1982).

In this case, the plaintiff has neglected to present any factual allegations whatsoever from which the Court can identify the harm done to him and by whom. Consequently, the plaintiff has failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. Under such circumstances, the Court is obliged to dismiss the complaint sua sponte. 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2).
